Learning in the City

Welcome to our 2024/2025 course prospectus.

I am delighted to be introducing our very latest course prospectus. In my view, this is the best one yet. We have produced a document that outlines our programme offer. We have worked hard to ensure that this version is informative, exciting and provides as much course information as possible.

At the City of London Corporation's Adult Skills and Education Service (ASES), we believe that learning provides the route to employment, wellbeing, and social mobility. We will continue to work hard to ensure that all adults, families, businesses, and employers have access to lifelong learning opportunities, well-paid jobs, high-quality careers and the competencies, characteristics, and tools to flourish in the 21st-century workplace.

The Adult Skills and Education Service is a keen ambassador for Lifelong Learning. We strongly believe that learning is an important liberator and can be a life-changing force. We will continue to improve our learning environment to encourage all existing and potential new learners to express their desire for many different types of learning opportunities.

Our adult and community learning service will focus strongly on the seven adult learning priorities. They are: equipping parents/carers to support children's learning, developing stronger communities, preparation for employment, preparation for further learning, health and wellbeing, engaging and/or building confidence, improving essential skills including English, ESOL, maths and digital skills.

Regardless of whether you want to learn for personal or professional reasons, we would like to hear about your learning needs and aspirations. As in previous years, ASES will introduce you to new and challenging learning opportunities. We will continue to perfect our apprenticeship programmes. We will work with employers and apprentices to meet their expectations. Access to online and digital education has never been more critical. We are proud of adapting to this new learning climate brought about by the need for even more online learning opportunities.

We have successfully completed a series of Digital Skills courses, enabling support for all, regardless of income or digital experience. In this new academic year, we will continue to work closely with our local business and social communities, ensuring that learning, employment, and skills become an essential part of everyone's lifelong learning agenda.

We will continue our commitment to improving the Digital Skills within our local communities. The support for those for whom English is not their first language is extensive. ASES aims to secure the resources needed to respond to learners' needs and help them progress onto higher level courses or secure sustainable employment.

We will continue to deliver a dedicated learning programme for all learners. We work with a wide range of partners, including job centres, colleges, employers, universities, and charities, to ensure that all learners receive the support they need to make a meaningful life in the UK. The ASES team would like to thank you for being a learner with us, and we hope that with your constructive feedback, we can further improve our Service.

Welcome to our 2024/25 academic year, another year of learning, health and wellbeing development, and personal growth.

Barbara Hamilton, Head of Adult Skills, and Education Service

Our Community Outreach and Events

AI in Education Event

As part of national apprenticeship week, the adult skills and education service organised an event to help attendees better understand the power of AI and the consequences that it has on our ever-changing world. Andrea Geweessler gave an impassioned talk where she discussed how AI learning algorithms are optimizing processes in manufacturing, healthcare, finance, and more, leading to increased efficiency and precision at work. Andrea also highlighted the challenges and ethical considerations accompanying AI's rise, warning about the potential biases embedded into AI systems. Overall, the excellent event gave attendees the chance to gain an insight into the complicated and vast impact that AI will continue to have on our lives.

Art Showcase at The Museum of London

Sara Whale's art class had the amazing opportunity to display their artwork at the Museum of London community conference. The beautifully curated display showcased the students work and was greatly enjoyed by the events attendees. The exhibition at the community conference helped the students express their creativity and show their artistic progress.

Community Event

On Monday the 3rd of July the Adult Skills and Education Service held an outstanding community learning and skills event, where the local community gathered not only to honour the amazing achievements of their learners but to explore the various and exciting course opportunities available throughout the city of London. Attendees had the opportunity to get involved with interactive taster sessions on a variety of courses, where they were able to enjoy activities such as jewellery making, sewing and art. The event also provided the chance for attendees to practice a variety of functional skills and to explore the vast capabilities of chat GPT and even virtual reality!

JCP Apprenticeship Event

The Adult Skills and Education Service worked in collaboration with DWP to organise an outstanding apprenticeship event, with the goal of promoting and advocating for the apprenticeships on offer at the City of London Corporation. Taking place during national apprenticeship week, the event gave aspiring apprentices the opportunity to meet with the apprenticeship team, where they could discuss the opportunities that are available to them based on their goals and needs. We had an amazing turnout, engaging with over 150 JCP customers over two days. The event helped customers gain a better understanding of how they could benefit from an apprenticeship. We successfully showcased how the Adult Skills team remain committed to nurturing talent by providing a vast range of apprenticeship opportunities.

SEND Breakfast Event

The City of London Corporation's Adult Skills and Education Service held an outstanding breakfast event at Mansion House, with the goal to encourage businesses to provide opportunities for young individuals with Special Educational Needs or disabilities (SEND) through supported internships. Taking place on the 7th of December, the breakfast event was a delight to attend and boasted a range of esteemed speakers who discussed the importance of advancing social mobility and creating a more inclusive future for young people. The speakers included a wide variety of advocates who each provided vital insights on the narrative around supported internships, emphasizing the importance of collaboration between educational institutions and businesses to create more inclusive work environments. Attendees were able to discuss these important issues and exchanged ideas on how to best provide opportunities and break down barriers to empower young individuals with SEND. The inspiring discussions highlighted the importance of creating a supportive environment that encourages skill development as well as professional and personal growth for young people with additional needs or disabilities.

Information about initial assessments

Some of our courses will require you to complete an initial assessment before we can offer you a place on one of our courses – this will be indicated during the enrolment process.

If the course you have applied for requires an initial assessment, once you have completed an enrolment form, one of our team will contact you within 7 working days to arrange for you to attend one of our centres to complete the initial assessment. Based on the outcome of this assessment you will be offered a place on the most suitable course for you. If you are required to pay course fees, your place cannot be confirmed until these fees have been paid.

If you have not heard from us within 7 working days, you may contact us at adulthoodeducation@cityoflondon.gov.uk

Check that you are eligible. Read through the eligibility criteria first

Almost all of our courses are at least partially funded by the Greater London Authority and you need to meet eligibility criteria. If you enrol, and you are not eligible, you can either get a refund or choose to pay the non-funded rate. Please ask for further information where required.

Make sure you pay the right fee

You will need to provide us with a proof of entitlement to the concession at the beginning of the course. If you have claimed a concession but are not eligible, you will be charged the difference before the first class or at the beginning of the course.

Your enrolment is subject to meeting the eligibility criteria, and paying the right fee.

Course cancellations

We reserve the right to cancel a course if it has insufficient enrolments. If we cancel a course before it starts, you will receive a full refund. Once a course has started, we reserve the right to issue partial refunds on a pro-rata basis.

Transfers & refunds

If you enrol on a wrong level, we will transfer you onto another course at no cost. We do not issue refunds if you change your mind, unless you have medical reasons, in which case we require a signed and stamped medical certificate.

Before you start the online enrolment process

Keeping our learners safe

Online learning & Moodle

All our courses are supported by an online learning platform called Moodle. Once you enrol, you will get your log-in details. Tutors put resources and assignments on Moodle. When you have enrolled on an online or blended learning course, your Moodle course also includes the Zoom video link that you need to access the class online.

What you'll need:

A device such as a computer, laptop, tablet or mobile phone

A stable internet connection

A webcam and microphone and possibly headphones

Zoom downloaded on your computer or laptop or the app installed on your mobile or tablet

- ✔ We are committed to keeping you and all learners safe. We safeguard you from abuse, harm, and neglect. We prevent you from being exposed to extremist views and from radicalisation.
- ✔ We protect all learners. We support you to stay safe from bullying, other forms of abuse and discrimination. Any discriminatory behaviours are challenged.
- ✔ We promote the safe use of technology and the internet.
- ✔ We have policies on Health and Safety, Equality and Diversity, Safeguarding, Prevent and the safe use of technology. You will learn more about these arrangements and what they mean to you at the beginning of each course. You will also be given an opportunity to share with us how we are doing on these issues through surveys and feedback to our staff.
- ✔ Our tutors receive regular training on these matters and are all DBS checked. All our staff know how to respond to signals that may suggest that a learner is unsafe.
- ✔ We have designated safeguarding officers and staff responsible for health and safety. Their role is to protect learners.

Learning for work & employment

Every day in my apprenticeship, I embrace hands-on learning, gaining invaluable skills and insights from experienced colleagues. The apprenticeship is a pathway to my future goals. This experience has changed my life as I felt lost not knowing what I will be doing in 30 years' time however, since joining the City of London apprenticeship, I feel confident with my career goals and where I want to be in years' time.

George Cross, Business apprentice,
Chamberlain's Court

Looking to find an Apprenticeship?

Apprenticeship vacancies are advertised on our City of London jobs page.
jobs.cityoflondon.gov.uk

The apprenticeship standards we manage and deliver include:

- Accountancy
- Animal Care
- Business Administration
- Butchery
- Civil Engineering
- Customer Service
- Digital Marketing
- Event Management
- Horticulture
- HR
- Transport Planning and more

At the City of London Adult Skills and Education Service, we provide apprenticeships at:

Levels

(Intermediate Apprenticeship equivalent to GCSEs)

(Advanced Apprenticeship equivalent to A Levels)

(Higher Apprenticeship equivalent to a foundation degree)

You will work in a real job while you train

All apprenticeship programmes are focused on teaching and supporting you to develop the knowledge, skills and behaviours needed within the vocational area of your choice. It takes between 18 and 36 months to complete depending on the specific requirements of your apprenticeship programme.

A word about Functional Skills

All apprenticeship standards require achievement of Maths and English at Level 1 (for Intermediate Apprenticeships) and Level 2 (for Advanced Apprenticeships & above). If you do not already have the relevant English and Maths qualifications required by the apprenticeship standard, we will support you to achieve this.

Achieving your Apprenticeship

At the end of the programme, you will be externally assessed by an independent assessor. This is called the End Point Assessment (EPA). The EPA will assess the competence you have acquired against the knowledge, skills and behaviours required by the Apprenticeship Standard. When you successfully complete the apprenticeship, you will be awarded a Pass, Merit or Distinction, depending on the Apprenticeship Standard. Teaching may be face-to-face, virtual or a combination of the two (blended).

Digital Projects

Digital Hub Legacy Continuing the mission

The Mayor of London's Skills Academies Digital Hub Programme has been instrumental in supporting Londoners hardest hit by the pandemic, guiding them towards sustainable employment in key sectors essential for London's recovery and long-term economic growth. With the conclusion of this programme in April 2024, the City of London Corporation is dedicated to continuing this vital work in-house, ensuring that the momentum is not lost.

A cornerstone of the Helping Londoners into Good Work mission is to narrow the employment gap among different groups in London. This mission targets individuals who are newly unemployed, as well as those facing inequality and under-representation in various sectors.

The Digital Skills Hub, now fully overseen by the City of London Corporation, remains a crucial element of this initiative. The Hub's objective is to connect Londoners with training that directly translates to quality jobs in the digital sector. It also aims to link them with major employers committed to diversifying their recruitment processes, offering work placements, interview opportunities, and pathways to rewarding careers.

Digital Skills Bootcamps

Supported by funding from the Greater London Authority (GLA) and in collaboration with our digital training specialist partners, the City of London Corporation's Adult Skills and Education service continues to offer Digital Skills Bootcamps. These Bootcamps are designed to upskill individuals, enhancing their career prospects and adding value to their current or future employers. With a focus on flexibility, these intensive Bootcamps are now delivered both in person and virtually.

We are committed to ensuring that 100% of participants who successfully complete a Bootcamp secure a job interview with a recognized Digital Skills employer. Whether you are seeking employment or looking to transition into the digital sector to advance your career, these Bootcamps provide essential opportunities for your next steps.

Interested individuals can inquire about joining a Bootcamp by contacting the City of London Corporation Adult Skills and Education Service Bootcamp Team at colbootcamps@cityoflondon.gov.uk

Digital Skills Career Fair Event

The event was a resounding success, attracting over 200 registered participants. Among the notable employers involved were Amazon, BBC Academy, Ford, Netcom, Pearson, and Simmons. Participants provided extensive feedback, praising the event for being extremely helpful in showcasing a variety of career paths they could explore and potentially transition into. They appreciated the opportunity to engage directly with employers and gain insights into what different companies have to offer.

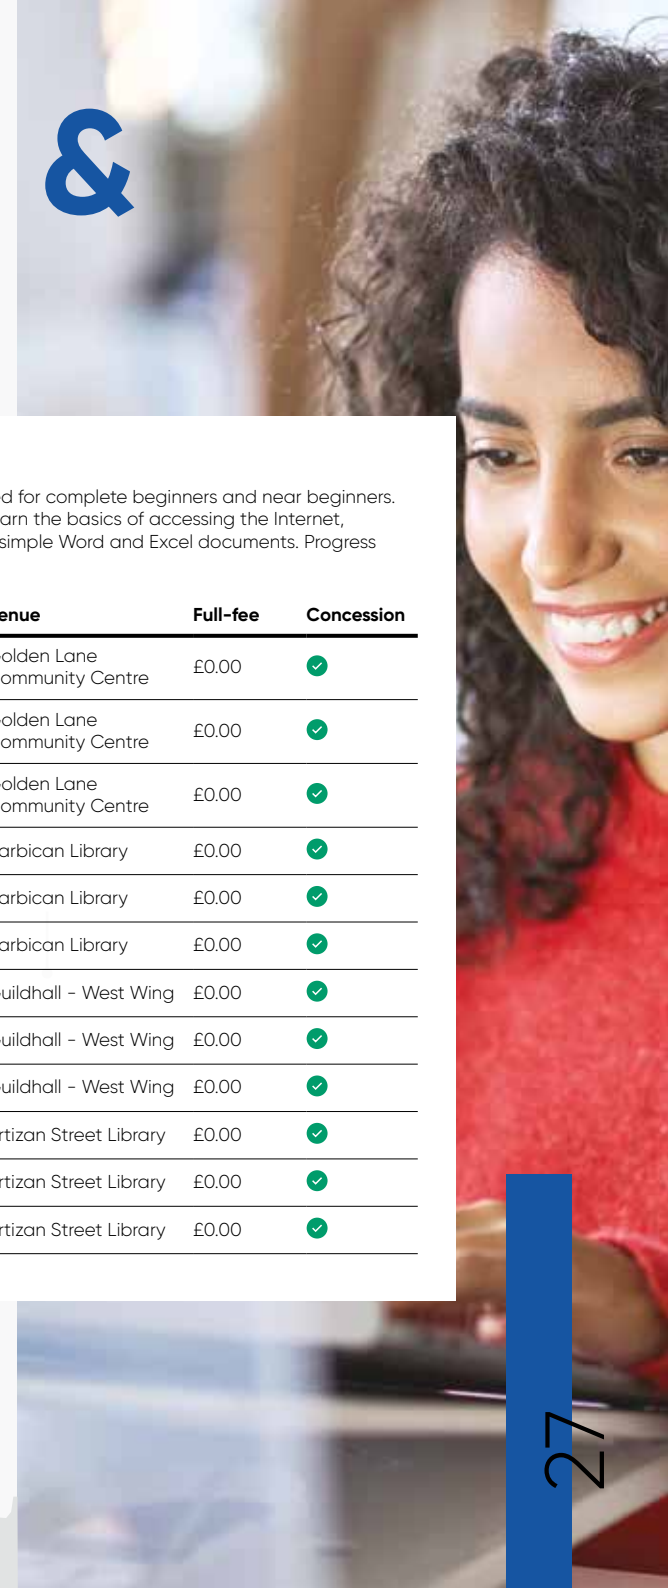

Employers also expressed positive feedback, noting that they were impressed by the high level of participant engagement. They found the event to be a valuable platform for gauging interest and interacting with a diverse pool of potential candidates.

The Digital Skills and Training Careers Fair played a crucial role in enlightening participants about various career avenues. After interacting with employers and training providers, participants received detailed information on how each career path could lead to employment opportunities through work experience, placements, or apprenticeships. For example, Amazon delivered a talk on their application process for apprenticeships and placements, outlining the steps involved and how these positions could potentially lead to permanent employment.

The event highlighted the importance of digital skills in today's job market and provided a unique platform for participants to learn about the latest trends and opportunities in various industries. Overall, it fostered meaningful connections between job seekers and employers, paving the way for future employment and professional growth.

Supported Internships & Employer Forum (SEND)

What is a Supported Internship?

Supported internships is a programme designed to provide young people with learning disabilities or difficulties, aged 16-24, with the opportunity to gain valuable work experience and develop skills in a real work environment. The programme is supported by the government and is aimed at helping young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) into employment.

How do they work?

The City of London Corporation's supported internship programme is delivered in a way that best suits the needs of the young people. We will aim to work with a few different external organisations and employers to provide work placements that are tailored to the needs of each individual intern. During the internship, participants receive training and support from a job coach or mentor, who works with them to develop their skills and help them achieve their goals.

The programme usually lasts for a year and can include a combination of work placement and college-based learning. It is designed to help young people develop practical skills that are transferable to other job roles such as maths, English and IT, as well as the confidence and independence needed to succeed in the workplace.

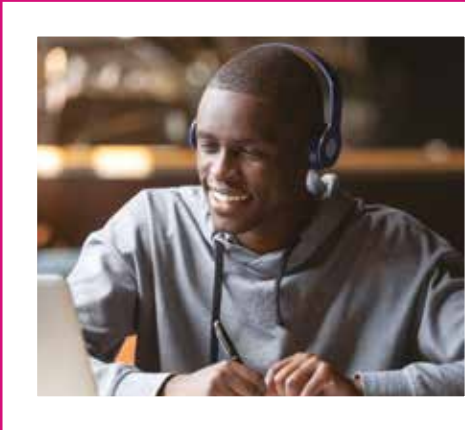

Who benefits?

Supported internships can benefit the interns and the employers. For the interns, the programme provides an opportunity to gain valuable work experience, develop new skills, and build their confidence. For employers, it offers the chance to work with talented and motivated young people who can bring fresh perspectives and ideas to their organisation.

Overall, supported internships are a valuable way to help young people with special educational needs make the transition to employment and build successful careers.

I really love the ESOL Classes because it helps us to improve our English and since when I started this class I improved my grammar, my speaking skills, listening skills. I love my teachers in ESOL they are really professional and polite, they try to teach us, they are very patient with us. There are many students in our group from different countries and it helps us to converse, to speak English here and we are very friendly and we learn English here and make new friends."

Multiply

Increase your Numeracy Skills with one of our Multiply Programmes

Multiply offers London residents (19+) free numeracy support who do not have a Level 2 maths qualification or GCSE in maths.

Courses cover everything from help with managing your money to supporting children with homework and workplace numeracy. You can also use this as a stepping stone to gain a qualification.

Managing your Money

- ✔ Understand how to make your £1 go further
- ✔ Create and manage a household budget
- ✔ Manage your monthly bills
- ✔ Utilise Better-Off calculations

Supporting Parents

- ✔ Multiply can support parents wanting to increase their numeracy skills in order to help their children with their homework and help with their own progression.

Gain a qualification

- ✔ Have you considered getting a qualification in maths? If so, try out our stepping stone courses designed to progress to a qualification.

Help to get into work or in work progression

- ✔ The Multiply programme can support you with numeracy confidence and skills needed to help you access work or in work progression.

Managing Your Money

This course is for adults who don't have formal qualifications in maths or numeracy. It's designed to help you improve your maths skills even if you haven't studied it before. Good numeracy skills can help you find better jobs, earn more money, and do well in everyday life. Having good numeracy skills can also help you manage your money, help your children with their homework and do things like measure and calculate things accurately.

Health & Wellbeing, Philosophy, History and Languages

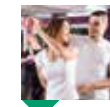

I have always been interested in languages. I like to communicate with people that otherwise couldn't, and I thought that BSL would be another way of doing so. I've really enjoyed it, the class is great, everyone is really friendly, and we seem to be learning a lot. The tutors are great. My favourite subject has probably been family."

Ballroom Beginners & Improvers

Turn off those television dance shows and learn for yourself the poise, steps and art of Ballroom and Latin dancing, including Waltz, Tango, Quickstep, Foxtrot, Rumba, Cha Cha Cha, Samba and Jive. As well as learning steps and developing your style and technique, you will also become fitter and make new friends – you don't need to bring a partner. The course is suitable for beginners, improvers and returners – anyone in the early days of their dancing or who wants to brush up on their basics.

Exploring the City

Step out into the City this summer on six Saturday morning walks with City of London Guide, Alison Woollard. Find out more about the people, places and history which are familiar and discover new aspects of the City on these themed walks.

Riverside London – Follow the Thames and discover why the Thames was and is so important to London. How was it used in the past? How is it being cared for today?

Market London – Explore the areas of Leadenhall and Smithfield and learn about how they developed and changed as the way we live in the City has changed.

Churches in the City – not just Wren! Discover the lost medieval parishes of the City, the destruction of churches as a result of the Fire, Victorian road building and the Blitz. We'll look at churches built over eight centuries (including a couple by Wren).

City People – Find out more about some of the names you know – Sir Richard Whittington, Samuel Pepys but then there will be unfamiliar names. What happened to Anne Askew? Who was Emilia Bassano?

Beyond the walls – we'll look north to Clerkenwell and find out about the City's water supply, some of its prisons, the priory of St John, the nunnery of St Mary, the revolutionary nature of Clerkenwell Green and Oliver Twist.

Migration the City – Explore the lives of the many groups who have come to the City from the Romans through to the Afghans and Ukrainians. Where did they settle and how did they contribute to life in the City.

Introduction to Guiding

Do you have a passion for the City and its history? Have you ever wondered about becoming a City of London Guide? This course is targeted at adults who are interested in applying to the City of London Guides course starting in Summer 2023 as well as other guiding courses and who have no previous experience of guiding. On this short course of walks and online sessions you'll find out all about guiding and learn how to approach applying for a guiding course with confidence.

The six-week course is packed full of useful information, hints and tips and practical exercises. You'll learn how to research and plan a presentation effectively and then how to address your audience with clarity and enthusiasm. Many former students have gone on to complete the City of London, Westminster, Camden or Clerkenwell Guides courses successfully. This course takes place online and on location.

The introduction to guiding course helped me immensely, especially on how to research a subject, picking out facts and presenting them to a group in an interesting way, as well as timing my presentations. I really enjoyed it too. I believe I wouldn't have passed my interview to train as City of London Guide without it.
